Sonoma To Vote On Sewer Bonds

Harbor Commissioner Sherman Spoke Before Kiwanis Club

Tomato Pack At Local Cannery Is Nearing Completion

NEW STATE OFFICIAL GAVE FINE TALK AT LOCAL MEETING

Luncheon Program of New Organization at Union Hotel Tuesday An Excellent One.

Harbor Commissioner Will Sherman of San Francisco, recently appointed by Governor Richardson to succeed Charles Spear, chairman of the harbor board, came to his boyhood home, Sonoma, Tuesday, and had the pleasure of addressing Sonoma's new organization, the Kiwanis Club. The luncheon program this week at the Union Hotel was largely attended, about 60 being present, including a delegation from Santa Rosa and reperesentatives of the Napa Kiwanis Club headed by Nathan Coombs of that city. The meeting was presided over by George Faught, Santa Rosa Kiwanian.

Mr. Sherman was the principal speaker of the day, and gave a very fine talk on the San Francisco harbor of the past and of the present.

Sherman pointed out that Tuesday was election day in numerous cities in the United States and told of the growing custom of American citizens to disregard their obligations of voting. He urged all Kiwanians to recognize and be true to their citizenship responsibilities at the polls.

In speaking of the San Francisco harbor, Sherman stated that it represents an investment of over $50,000,000 not one of which came from taxes. In this respect, he said, San Francisco harbor is one of the most unique in the world.

The first harbor commissioner was appointed by General Vallejo when California was under Mexican jurisdiction. Since then San Francisco harbor has grown so that now it has 41 wharves, with 18 miles of berthing space sufficient to dock 250 ships at one time.

The Santa Rosa iKwanians at the meeting presented the "infant" club with a huge nursing bottle, symbolizing the nourishment in Kiwanis ideals which the new club here will derive from the Santa Rosa Club, which sponsored it.

Next week's program and meeting will be put on under the auspices of the Napa Kiwanis Club.

"MR. BOB" AT UNION HALL NEXT FRIDAY

The drama "Mr .Bob" being rehearsed for production next week at Union Hall, on Friday, November 13th, is moving along nicely and all who attend will enjoy this sparkling comedy. A great addition to the evening's entertainment will be a number of selections by Lyle Campbell's symphony orchestra. The bazaar features will consist of a fancy work table, doll booth, grab bag, home made candy, ice cream and cake, coffee and sandwiches. The benefit is for the Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church and they will greatly appreciate your patronage.

1926 To Be Banner Baby Chick Year

That 1926 will be a banner baby chick year in Sonoma Valley is indicated by the preparations being made by local hatcheries to take care of big orders now coming in. Both Sonoma Valley poultry men as well as those of other localities are preparing to stock up extensively. The guarantee of the accredited hatcheries of the Valley of the Moon and the continued success of their customers accounts for the growth of the local industry. In addition to supplying the local trade, thousands of Sonoma Valley baby chicks are shipped to all parts of California and adjoining states.

FIRE MENACES BROADWAY HOMES

The Bancroft residence on Broadway was badly damaged by a fire on Thursday evening which for a time menaced the entire block of nice homes in that part of Sonoma.

The fire started on the second floor of the Bancroft or former B. F. Campbell house, and was burning briskly between the walls when discovered by William Faulkner, a roomer, who had gone upstairs to change his clothes. An alarm was at once turned in and the Sonoma fire department was soon on the scene. Hose was laid from a nearby hydrant and although the new fire engine found difficulty in getting pressure to give sufficient water, the firemen did valiant work. The fire was confined to the upper floor and although it broke out on the roof, which was badly damaged, the flames were finally controlled and the house savedfrom complete destruction. Mr. Bancroft estimates the loss at $3000, adequately covered by insurance with W. W. Carter.

The Bancroft furnishings were carried to the street. The lower floor was badly damaged by water and the entire house will have to be renovated. The family took refuge in the Abéle house across the street, which was generously offered them by their neighbors.

Fire Chief Valente and his aides of the fire department deserve great credit for good work at the fire, despite the water handicap which is being investigated. The Boyes Springs fire department came down also and gave aid in controlling the fire.

The origin of the fire is thought to have been due to a heater or a defective flue.

CASE AGAINST LOCAL DRUGGIST UP MONDAY

A venire of 30 prospective jurors for the trial next Monday of the action of J. J. Kaufman, former Sonoma masseur, against L. F. Lambert, Sonoma druggist, was drawn in Superior Judge Rolfe L. Thompson's court Wednesday afternoon. In his action Kaufman seeks $20,000 damages as the result of the loss of an index finger, which he alleges resulted from negligent treatment administered by Lambert.

State Board of Health Will Get Assurance From City Today At Hearing In S. F.

Today, in San Francisco, the State Board of Health will hold a hearing in the matter of the complaint of the Sonoma sewer farm nuisance, which has been finally brought to the attention of the board by the Sonoma Valley Grange, including in its membership many people residing in the vicinity of the sewer farm.

The city of Sonoma has been asked to send its representatives there and show cause why measures have not been taken to correct conditions, as promised. It is understood that City Attorney Posthlewaite and Mayor F. Bulotti will attend the hearing and pledge that the contemplated bond issue for sewer extension to tide water will be submitted to the voters of Sonoma City at the April election.

That the bond issue is imminent was evident from steps taken at the city trustees' meeting Wednesday evening, when the city attorney was instructed to proceed with the bond issue preliminaries. A $35,000 bond issue is to be submitted.

A delegation of Sonoma Valley members of the Grange and property owners living near the sewer farm, who recently forwarded a petition to the health authorities, will be present at the hearing today in San Francisco.

L. F. NIEMAN IS SUED BY LOS ANGELES AUTOISTS

Two damage suits, one asking for $15,250 for personal injuries and the other $887.76 for damage to an automobile in a crash on the highway between Sonoma and Vineburg last July were filed in the superior court at Santa Rosa this week against L. F. Nieman, Sonoma business man. Nieman is charged with reckless and negligent driving in both complaints.

The larger of the two actions was brought by Rafela Johnson of Los Angeles, who alleges that as the result of the accident she suffered a compound fracture of the left wrist, five broken ribs and other physical and nervous injuries which she believes will be permanent.

At the time of the accident, she says in her complaint, she was a passenger inan automobile owned and driven by Susanna Watkins, who is plaintiff in the second action. She asks $15,000 exemplary and $250 specific damages.

In the Watkins suit no damages for personal injury are sought. She alleges that at the time of the crash, on July 4th, she was driving an automobile valued at $1250. Repairs to the car after the accident cost $587.76, she says, while she asks $300 for being deprived of the use of the machine for 30 days.

At the time of the accident which occurred on a dangerous "S" turn on the Vineburg highway, Joe Ryan investigated the collision and exonerated Nieman of any blame in the matter.

Mr. Niemann is covered by liability insurance.

HALLOWE'EN FESTIVITIES THROUGHOUT VALLEY

Hallowe'en was more generally celebrated than usual throughout Sonoma Valley this year The principal social event in Sonoma was the annual dance given by Sonoma Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West at Union Hall. The spirit of Hallowe'en was reflected in the decorations of yellow and black, restic cornstalks and pumpkins and autumn grape foliage. An illuminated witch stood out in startling silhouette against an appropriate background and there were other mystic and weird insignia of the Hallowe'en. A splendid crowd was in attendance and entered into the spirit of the occasion with jollity and eclat. Music by an orchestra from San Francisco proved a novel attraction and the generous encores made for a good time and prolonged the party until a late hour.

Refreshments served at midnight by a committee headed by Mrs. Mae Norrbom were greatly enjoyed, home made cakes, excellent coffee and delicious sandwiches being served.

The check room under the capable direction of Gladys Small added to the receipts for the eveneing. A hand-embroidered pillow offered to the successful guesser of the number of seeds in a huge pumpkin was won by Joseph Vella.

The committee of arrangements, Mrs Edna Helberg, Mrs. Florence Adler, Mrs Rose Vella, Mrs. Rose Bartoli, and Mrs. Helen Anselmi, was well pleased with the receipts for the evening and report the dance as highly successful from a financial

Modification Of The Dry Law Predicted

Congressman Hill, of Baltimore, Maryland, addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting of men and women at the civic auditorium, San Francisco, Wednesday night and predicted that the next Congress will vote to modify the Volstead Act, so as to permit the return of light wines and beer.

Sonoma people who attended the mass meeting got the benefit of valuable information concerning the dry law, its passage, absurdities and interpretation by the courts. Speakers included William H. Metson of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, Sylvester Andriano of San Francisco and Congressman John Phillip Hill of Maryland, overseas veteran and graduate of John Hopkins University.

Metson opened the meeting by announcing the national anthem and as the band played hte "Star Spangled Banner," the vast audience arose enmasse. At the conclusion of the patriotic number, Metson stressed the lines "for our cause it is just" and predicted that the present dry law must be changed because of its evi-

Pop Corn Grows Well In Sonoma

Pop corn, seven ears to a stalk, was grown in Sonoma this year by Mr. Loveall, the 94 year old farmer of Buena Vista. Mr. Loveall is from Missouri and knows how to grow corn. He declares that pop corn will thrive even on the most niggardly of soil and that it makes excellent cow feed. It requires little care and there is good money in it. While Sonoma cannot compete with Georgia, whose climate is so hot that pop corn pops on the stalk nevertheless Sonoma can grow pop corn which can be popped over an open fire or can be fed to stock with good results.

BOYES SPRINGS FIRE LEADS TO ARREST

A fire which was disrovered in the cottage belonging to Dan and Harry Kennell at Boyes Springs early Sunday morning led to investigation by the authorities, who have caused the arrest of Dan Kennell, of Alameda. Suspicious circumstances are being probed with the idea of establishing that the fire was set to collect $1300 insurance.

Kennell claims he can establish a complete alibi and that he knew nothing of the blaze until he arrived later during the day and was told of the narrow escape of his effects, which were packed for shipment to Alameda. He has been working for M. H. Fish in the Encinal City and was moving down there this week. Bail was fixed at $1000.

Slight damages at the Kennell cottage were due to prompt action of the Boyes Springs fire department.

$57,000 DAMAGE SUIT OVER THE GOLF LINKS

Partridge and Lichtenberg, of Boyes Springs, have been made defendants in a suit for $57,000 brought by the Peninsular Development Corporation, which was to purchase a lease and option on the former Bigelow property golf links. The corporation alleges that they lost a $50,000 profit sale because Partridge could not deliver the goods on the Bigelow acreage.

Mr. Partridge has counter suits pending against the Peninsular Development Corporation, which sought to get the property tied up by the Boyes Springs capitalist, who claims that the corporation did not come through with money as promised and failed to live up to its agreement in the deal. Partridge has expended considerable money on the property since he purchased the option from the Valley of the Moon Golf Club.

The happy message arrived here from the South this week that a little son had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Campbell, nee Florence Green, on October 30th. The baby makes Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Green grandparents, and Mrs. Green is now in Los Angeles with her daughter and the little one. The baby has been named Thomas Carlton Campbell.

SAM SEBASTIANI PLANT HAS MOST SUCCESSFUL RUN

Carloads of Sonoma Produce Being Shipped to Many Big Concerns; Cannery Is Busy Place.

Sonoma has had one of the most successful seasons ever recorded by the local cannery. The tomato pack which is nearing the close at the big Sebastiani plant on Third Street East has already reached 60,000 cases and many more orders are being filled for big concerns, such as Haas Brothers, Sussman & Wormser, the California Packing Corporation, United States government and the Campbell Soup Company. The Sonoma plant is canning all the tomatoes grown in Sonoma Valley that could be bought and in addition have been hauling tomatoes from Livermore, Suisun and the Napa Valley. Kearney Brothers are the largest producers in this vicinity.

The Sebastiani cannery is a completely and modernly equipped plant operated by a competent "family" of employees, headed by G. G. Cognasso, superintendent. R. E. Murphy is manager for Sebastiani. At the present time between 50 and 60 people are finishing up the tomato pack. The factory is unique in that the tomatoes are being sorted and prepared for the trade with as much care as if they were being put up in the kitchen of a housewife. Some of the best housekeepers and cooks in the Valley of the Moon, good old fashioned heads of homes, are working in the cannery, helping the men folks and employees in general make the Sonoma product famed around the world.

After the tomatoes are sorted, graded, washed and peeled, they are put up as solid pack, standard and tomato puree. Everything is steam cooked in immense units and the cans come out on an automatic conveyor and go to the lacquer machine where they are coated to prevent rust. The steam cooking process, of course, is followed by the capping process, a machine doing the work at the rate of 33 cans per minute. The cans are finally labeled and loaded onto the cars at the siding. Before they go

YOUNG GIRL IS CALLED BY DEATH

The Peter Carlson family, recently arrived here from Wheeling, West Virginia, were grief stricken by the death of their daughter, Olga Carlson, early last Saturday morning.

Miss Carlson had been in California but a few days. She was 20 years old and a graduate of the Wheeling high school.

Miss Carlson is deeply mourned by her parents and two sisters, Evelyn and Selma Carlson, and a large number of relatives and friends. She was buried in Oakland, many beautiful floral offerings covering the casket.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gilmaker of Long Beach have been in the North on a motor trip and were here last Saturday looking after property.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

A delightful surprise party was given A. Chelini last Sunday at his home on Riverside Drive by his mother, at which his children, and other relatives and friends were present. A pleasant day was enjoyed, ending with a sumptuous dinner, a feature of which was a large birthday cake decorated with 58 candles. Sunday was also the birth day of Mr. Chelini's grandchild which accounted, to some extent, for the large number of candles. Those present were Mrs. Eugenia Chelini, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chelini and child, Mr. and Mrs. M. Raffetti and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Gatto, Mr. and Mrs. R. Gainor and children, Mr. and Mrs. M. Chelini and son, and Mr. and Mrs. V. Chelini, all of San Francisco. Mr. Chelini was the recipient of many nice gifts.

Tom Sharkey, 20 years ago a near contender for the heavyweight champ ionship of the world, accompanied by Frank Fields, celebrated referee and boxer, now traveling with Sharkey through the country in sparring exhibitions and a brother of Mrs. G. Colgan of Santa Rosa, stopped over in that city last week and spent Friday renewing acquaintances. Senator Slater's able write-up of the former great Irishman in last week's Santa Rosa paper was read with interest by Sonoma Valley admirers of Sailor Sharkey. Reading of the old tar brought back to memory the days when he was clashing with Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Peter Maher and other great gladiators of those days.

William Dowdall, an employee of the Bowser Company, San Francisco, while drilling holes in a boiler Friday had the misfortune to have his nose broken when the drill stuck, causing the handle to swing around, striking him on the nose. Dowdall luckily escaped further injury. It is said that Bill forgot to duck, which would have averted the knockout.

Miss Edna Trainor was here Monday visiting relatives. Her mother, who had been visiting Mrs. Watts, accompanied Miss Trainor back to San Francisco.

Charles Danieli returned from Klamath Falls Saturday, where he had spent the past week on business for a San Francisco firm. He spent the week end here with his parents.

Mrs. L. L. Stevenson and family of Sonoma Vista have moved to Larkspur, to join Mr. Stevenson, who is a building contractor in that city.

State Highway Commissioner Toy accompanied by his wife and other friends, enjoyed Hallowe'en at their new home in Sonoma Vista. As the guests were enjoying cards, Hallowe'en jokers drove up and removed the well known politician's gate. The genial Toy took the joke good naturedly and Sunday morning the lost gate was found in El Verano and taken back to the Toy home. "Boys will be boys," exclaimed Toy with his hearty, good natured laugh. "The joke is on me."

Mr. and Mrs. A. Sousa, nee Annie Dowdall, of Berkeley, were guests of Mrs. Sousa's parents Sunday.

John Harper, former El Verano butcher, accompanied by his wife and son, were guests at the Walsh home Sunday. Mr. Harper is now in the meat business in Napa.

Miss D. Nonella is spending the week with her parents here, from San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Denny, accompanied by Bob Munroe of Oakland, were guests at the Nufer home here last Sunday.

M. Persons and wife attended the funeral of a relative in Oakland on Tuesday.

Ernest Sobbe, N. W. P. brakeman, was a week end visitor at the A. W. Weaver home, from San Francisco.

An instruction car, attached to the freight train, examining employees on the book of rules, was here Monday in charge of Examiner Nicols, of the S. P. Company.

The Native Daughters' ball last Saturday night at Sonoma was a big success, dancers from Sonoma Valley and neighboring cities enjoying the evening and the hospitality of Sonoma's popular Native Daughters. Fine music from San Francisco played the latest dance hits and the eats served by the committee were enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance. The dance at Glen Ellen was also well attended, dancing continuing until the wee hours of the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Parente and Miss Lillian were week end visitors at their Verano hotel, The Tavern.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nufer, after spending the summer at their Riverside Drive cottage, returned to Oakland Monday where they will spend the winter months.

Fred Lowell, supervisor, was transacting business at El Verano on last Saturday.

Nick Dowdall, who is at St. Mary's hospital, San Francisco, underwent an operation on his leg last week. The leg was broken several months ago and the operation of last week was for the purpose of removing several plates. Mr. Dowdall will be at the hospital five weeks, and under the skillful care of Dr. Nolan, bone specialist, he will be able to walk again as good as ever. He is now up and around and his many Sonoma Valley friends will be glad to hear that he is improving.

AN INCONGRUOUS SITUATION

Glen Ellen recently lost its "little red school house" by fire and the school children are now attending classes temporarily in the village church. Repairs are meanwhile being made to an old frame building which will later house the district's pupils and two teachers. The former school house and the one being prepared are not what they should be, bet must do until the consolidation prejudice in that section dies out and bonds are voted for a modern building long contemplated as the center of the already consolidated districts of Glen Ellen, Dunbar and Enterprise.

An incongruous situation exists at Glen Ellen, situated so close to the feeble minded home, where the State has built and is continuing to build the most lavishly beautiful and modern fireproof structures that architects and contractors can devise. The facilities provided for the feeble minded children and those available for the normal, intelligent pupils of many little public schools are in startling contrast. The situation invites the question: are we not spending too much money on housing our mentally deficient? Elaborate architecture is unnecessary, and while the little red school house style not be substituted, we might have a moderate, reasonable standard for building programs at our State institutions.

Not only are normal minded school children often housed in poor structures while the superb and sanitary is thrust upon defective charges, but we also find the once useful citizen of our poor farms eking out miserable existence in fire-traps and almost squalid environment.

California is building a new and beautiful home for feeble minded in Southern California, said to be the largest and the finest in the United States. Press reports tell the story with pride. It should be our boast that we have the smallest institution of this kind in this Nation, for why should California be supporting more defectives than any other State in the Union? Naturally, the unfortunate flock here to take advantage of our accommodations.

We believe in adequate provision for the unfortunates, the best of care and food, substantial, serviceable improvements, but, with many others, demur to the immense sums of money spent in building up palatial plants for our unfortunates while many school children, particularly of the rural districts and man ycounty charges, reduced to sickness or poverty through misfortune, are provided with inadequate or miserable accommodations.

How the adjustment onto a sane basis will be accomplished is problematic, but some agency should work it out. The situation is revealed here in startling aspect.

PROHIBITION DIRECTOR OF KANSAS STOCK

It is interesting to note that California's new prohibition director, Colonel Ned Green, comes of good old Kansas stock, the same Kansas where they say prohibition succeeded long before it hit the skids as a national panacea.

Colonel Green has the unqualified approval and endorsement of the once famous Richmond Pearson Hobson, of kissing fame.

Colonel Green has a distinguished record in France, where he served under Pershing. He comes to make war on illicit liquor in California as an appointee of the Federal authorities in Washington, and if anyone can dry up the State he will be able to do it. Hobson introduces Colonel Green to the Liberator, the Anti-Saloon League paper, as follows:

"This will introduce to you my old friend, Colonel Ned Green, U. S. Army, retired, recently appointed administrator of prohibition enforcement of the Twenty-First District, including Northern California and the State of Nevada. I hope that you and Colonel Green will be the best of friends. I have known the Colonel a number of years as my next door neighbor. He is veritably the salt of the earth and is assuming the duties of his new position with the highest purposes to carry out the law without fear of enmity or hope of favor.

"I hope you will take the pains to look up his record in the United States Army, as well as his antecedents in Kansas, where he was brought up in a prohibition home by a prohibition father and mother in the midst of the Kansas fight for prohibition, has father, as Governor of Kansas, taking the leadership in that fight. In France, General Pershing asked him to take charge of the American soldier police of Paris as assistant to the Provost Marshal of Paris. He accepted that difficult position under the same conditions that he has accepted his present position, namely, that he would be given complete authority and would have the absolute support of the General. His record there is one of the achievements that reflects credit upon the United States.

"As a total abstainer and a prohibitionist himself, and determined to carry out the law to the limit of his power, you will find him a tower of strength for the cause of prohibition and of law enforcement, and I bespeak for him the whole-hearted, loyal and enthusiastic support of your great organization and its friends throughout California.

"It is not necessary for me to add that with the staunchness of the soldier and unfaltering consecration to doing his duty at any cost, he is a most lovable man, and I feel a special pride in introducing you to each other.

"Always with kind regards and best wishes, I remain,

"Sincerely yours,

"Richmond Pearson Hobson."

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

California officers of the American Legion, which first voiced American Education Week, sends out the following foreword to observance of the days, November 16th to 22nd:

According to the census of 1920, there were in the United States at that time 4,300,000 illiterates over the age of 21 years. Of this number more than 1,200,000 were native born and of the white race.

In England and Scotland illiteracy is almost unknown; in Germany illiteracy is confined to the mentally deficient.

The 1920 census informs us that among the advanced nations of the world the United States ranks tenth in the scale of illiteracy.

The late Franklin K. Lane estimated that our annual loss due to illiteracy exceeded $825,000,000.

Over 600,000 deaths are each year attributed to illiteracy.

In the prisons of the United States there are approximately 6,000,000 men and women whose mentality approaches that of the 11 year old child.

About 95 out of every 100 of these prisoners are returned to the national community ready for further and more skilled depredations upon society in general.

In California there are more than 100,000 children attending the public schools. What are the problems of the schools in your community? Beware of the seeds of communism and socialism lest they be planted in your midst. Those who would destroy our republic would first gain control of the children's minds. Are all of the class room teachers in your community loyal citizens?

Builders of citizens, caretakers of the future usefulness of these, the jewels of the nation, the American Legion obligates the men and women teachers of America to watchfully protect our youth from the savagery of the despoiler.

In our daily work, no matter what it be, so long as it is well and honestly done, you are a builder of the Flag. The courage which its colors gives is for you in your dreams of success. In your moments of weariness and disappointment its folds are your supply and comfort. The Flag is your protector and your counselor. You are its defender. The Flag is what you make it—nothing more.

DENIES REPORT THAT HE TIPPED OF OFFICERS

George Caviglia, popularly known as "Bootlegger George," who had a recent run of hard luck when he was the victim of a bad accident in which he was burned, and later lost his house and car in a fire, denies that he ever tipped off bootleggers or bootleggers' establishments to the authorities. He admits having been in the employ of the Internal Revenue Department of the government in San Francisco but declares that this employment antedated his residence in Sonoma.

Caviglia was intimate with local officials and the story became current that he was working as an under cover agent. In denial of this report he offers a reward of $500 to anyone who can prove the charge, and to establish his innocence makes the following statement and offer in writing:

$500 Reward

To whom it may cocern:

I hereby give notice to the public that I will pay $500 in cash to any person or persons who can prove that I have ever furnished any information to any officer, whether federal, state, county or local, which might lead to the detection or conviction of any persons suspected of being "bootlegers" or "manufacturers of illicit liquor." I do this because I have been unjustly accused of having furnished information to officers in several instances. In order to show that I am acting in good faith in this matter, and am innocent of any such charge, I will deposit the said sum of $500 in either of the local banks this 7th day of November, 1925, the same to be paid in accordane with the above offer.

Signed:

GEORGE CAVIGLIA,
Sonoma, California.

NECESSARY WORK ON BLACK POINT ROAD

Paving of 4300 feet of the Black Point cut-off to connect with the Santa Rosa-Vineburg highway, and reconstruction of the remaining unimproved section of the Santa Rosa and Healdsburg highway from Santa Rosa to Mark West creek will be provided for by the State Highway Commission next year, it has been stated by R. M. Morton, state highway engineer.

Morton said that it was assured that both the Black Point work and the Santa Rosa and Mark West reconstruction would be undertaken early in 1926. The first job, running west from the Napa county line, has been requested by the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, who point out that with paving of that stretch of highway an unbroken line of pavement from the Sacramento Valley to the Sonoma coast would be provided. The straightening, widening and thickening of the Redwood Highway form Santa Rosa to Mark West bridge was contemplated in connection with the improvement now going on from north of the creek to Healdsburg. The job, which cotemplates removal of two sharp turns and shortening of others, will cost between $250,000 and $300,000, Morton estimated.

The highway commission party inspected the proposed Black Point improvement recently, and the reconstruction work is abdly needed.

standpoint, while all those who attended praised the social success of the affair.

Grammar School Frolic

The pupils of the Sonoma Grammar School had a jolly Hallowe'en frolic and costume party on Friday night of last week. There were dancing, refreshments and games. Prizes went to the most effective costumes and were won by Jerry Casson, who was dressed as a pumpkin; Jessie Nicol, American Flag costume; Lawrence Sebastiani, Chinese boy costume. About 125 participated.

The prizes, a book, a flashlight and pearl beads, were generously donated by G. H. Hotz, F Duhring and W. E. Kiefer, local merchants.

Glen Ellen Masquerade

The Glen Ellen Women's Improvement Club had a very successful Hallowe'en mask ball at the Jack London auditorium. There was a large crowd and many in costume. Perkins orchestra furnished excellent music. Among clever costumes reported were Miss Beth Weaver and Miss Rose Pagani as little girls; Marie Minkel Johnstone, Chinese girl; Mr. Boolsen, Colonial; F. Steiger, Indian chief; Mrs. Erhardt Steiger, Schellville, Dutch Cleanser; Mrs. T. Cereghino, original costume, a prohibitionbarrel; and many others which came in for praise. Prize winners were the Indian chief, harem lady and Simple Simon. Prizes were awarded for the best dressed characters, lady and gentleman, and for the best sustained. R. R. Emparan, of Sonoma, was one of the judges, and there was quite a representation from Sonoma present, both as spectators and maskers.

Delicious refreshments were served by the club ladies at midnight. Recepits were very satisfactory and go toward paying off the club house debt.

Hallowe'en At High School

A successful Hallowe'en masquerade party was given by the Juniors at the high school Friday night. Butterflies, dolls, pirates, cannibals and all sorts of characters and imitations of things attended the Hallowe'en frolic. A pleasing program was given at 8:30 o'clock, after which the real fun began when the maskers selected their partners for the first dance and tried to determine their identity. Many were soon recognized but some remained unknown until time for unmasking at 11 o'clock.

A grand march and review preceded the award of prizes and the unmasking. The noise of the cannibals, wrigling of the cripple, slouching of the hoboes, and coyness of the dainty ones was more pronounced during the march. The identities of the winners of the costume contest were as follows:

Golden butterfly, Grace Barr.

Raggedy Ann Dolls, Eugenie Tate and Mildred States.

Twisted man, Kenneth Corman.

Cannibal chief, Fred Norrbom.

There were many clever costumes and well sustained parts. Spearmint, disclosed as Miss Coggins, was one of these. The black kitties, Doris and Florence Baines, were fascinating.

The prizes, awarded by Watson Garoni, Junior president, were gifts from local merchants, as follows:

Toilet article, L. S. Simmons; vanity compact, L. F. Lambert; scarf, the Toggery; pocketbook, W. Kiefer; flashlight, F. Duhring.

Coffee and cake refreshed the dancers after the march.

The program was as follows:

Speech, Watson Garoni.

Skit—Evelyn Valente, Leah Rouquie, Lucille Kramer, Dave Cohen.

The Trysting Place, one act play—Junior members of drama class.

Music trio—Eva Schieck, Leah Abbott and William Rambo.

Hallowe'en reading—Leah Abbott.

Vocal solo—Watson Garoni.

A CORRECTION

Editor, Sonoma Index-Tribune.

This will call your attention to an error in regard to the recent account in your paper of the visit of Santa Rosa Bethel of Job's Daeughters to Sonoma on October 24th. This Bethel is being sponsored by Santa Rosa Court No. 6, Order of the Amaranth, instead of by Rose Valley Chapter, O. E. S.

The Bethel was accompanied by the Guardian Council and the Royal Patron of the Amaranth.

Al Stein will be glad to receive a copy of the paper in which this correction is made.

Respectfully yours, out they have been thoroughly tested after 24 hours and after 48 hours in the cans. They are then ready for the paper cartons which have been put together by a special machine and are in readiness for them.

The processing of the soup is interesting, the tomato pulp of a standard specific gravity being pumped to the second floor into huge vats where it is cooked and tested. It is then reconveyed by pipes to the first floor where it is put in containers for the customer.

Sonoma tomatoes will grace the tables of many lands next year and the quality of the product should win new honors for Sonoma Valley and its enterprising cannery man, Sam Sebastiaai, who at great expense installed the plant and has been adding to its units and efficiency each year.

A shipment of 288,000 cans of tomatoes will be completed shortly.

WINTER SCHEDULED IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement is made that the winter schedule of the Richmond San Rafael Ferry Company has gone into effect this week. The time table is so arranged that the service will provide for ample service to handle the traffic through the season.

In order that the short highway between Point San Quentin and San Rafael may be kept in good shape, work has been going on during the past two weeks. This work is of necessity of temporary nature and is done for the accommodation of motorists during the rainy season. But it will be found that the road will be kept in fairly good condition. Next spring it is understood that the State Highway Commission will begin the work of building a first class concrete road over this short stretch. "Our winter service is provided with careful attention to the requirements of the traffic," said Secretary H. T. McGill. "The work on the highway will be found sufficient to accommodate the traffic. We feel certain that the service provided will meet with the approval of the motoring public."

REDWOOD FOREST RESERVATION PLAN

A great redwood forest reservation comprising approximately 10,000 to 12,000 acres and representing a valuation of several billion dollars is contemplated in plans recently outlined, and given approval by the council f the Save the Redwoods League at its annual meeting in San Francisco. Announcement to this effect has just been made by Dr. John C. Merriam of Washington, D. C., president of the Save the Redwoods League, and J. D. Grant of San Francisco, chairman of the league's Board of Directors. This reservation if established will be of national significance, both as to size and importanle, and will, according to the plan, be located at the junction of the South Fork and Eel Rivers at Dyerville, Humboldt County, California, and will comprise the major portion of the watershed of Bull Creek, a tributary of the South Fork of the Eel.

Toward the realization of the larger redwood reservation at Dyerville, the league already has in hand a fund in excess of three-quarters of a million dollars to be utilized toward the purchase of portions of the Dyerville Flats and also a portion of the celebrated Bull Creek flat. Many scientists and world travelers have declared that in Bull Creek flat the redwood is found in its highest form of development. The largest and tallest of the Sequoia Sempervirens and also the most symmetrical are found in the main Bull Creek flat. It is stated that probably nowhere since the beginning of time has there existed a more majestic forest. Lumbermen are agreed that the average density of the timber here reaches the maximum known in these forests. It is with these facts in mind and also because of the unusual recreational opportunities afforded that the league has decided to spport the plan

Marshall And Brown Act For Jews Helping Co-Religionists Abroad

Louis Marshall and David A. Brown, aided by Felix M. Warburg and other prominent American Jewish leaders, recently swept a great national conference in Philadelphia into whole-hearted support of a movement to raise $15,000,000 during the next three years, principally for the purpose of aiding Jews in Russia to leave the congested cities, where their profession of small trading has been virtually wiped out, and to settle on the farming grants made available to them by the Russian government.

After a spirited discussion the conference unanimously approved the movement. Mr. Brown has been selected as national chairman and will direct the money-raising, under the name of the United Jewish Campaign, from headquarters at Room 512, Pershing Square Building, New York.

Agricultural teachers and supervisors, tractors, plows, breeding stations and small loans, where necessary, will be furnished the land lettlers. The plan is new only in aspect of size, for the Joint Distribution Committee has been carrying it out experimentally for more than four years and reports it highly effective. According to the reports of David A. Brown and Dr. Joseph Rosen, the Jewish farmers are contented and successful.

The Joint Distribution Committee was one of the principal supporters of the American Relief Administration while, under the chairmanship of Herbert Hoover, that organization vanquished the Russian famine. The new work, according to its sponsors, is a logical outgrowth of that great charity.

A feeling of great satisfaction is said to permeate Jewish philanthropic circles at the prospect of putting Russian Jews permanently on their feet, instead of continuing to send abroad millions that go merely for palliative relief. Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, gave $1,000,000 and Felix M. Warburg $400,000 to start the fund. The slogan of the campaign is, "Give them a chance to help themselves."

MODIFICATION OF DRY LAW PREDICTED

dent inconsistency and injustice. He declared the Eleventh Amendment was the onlv one which violated the liberties of the American people and said that in attempting to limit the alcoholic content of liquors and in defining as intoxicating beverages those above one-half of 1 per cent that the law had been made absurd. He flayed the so-called reformers who put over the measure on the country and subsidized preachers of the Anti-Saloon League who cried out for the enforcement of this law but not all law, particularly those who seek to evade taxes on church property while often using houses of worship for regular vaudeville stunts as an aid to dry propaganda.

Sylvester Andriano, brilliant orator and student of prohibition conditions, said that it was precisely because he and other Americans loved and revered their country that they were in the fight to have the dry law modified. He said the law had bred hyprocrisy in high and low places, among drys as well as wets. Worst of all the hypocrites, he declared, were the representatives of the people who drink wet and vote dry. He said they were the cringing, servile tools of the Anti-Saloon League and ranked with those who pose as reformers and yet have their own cellars well stocked. He made the frank statement that he had no respect for the Volstead Act because he would have to surrender his own self-respect to do so. The speaker declared that even if everything promised for prohibition could be accomplished, it would still fail to justify itself because the act is founded on a lie—the presumption that drinking is a crime if it involves beverages over one-half of 1 per cent. He said it was a rich man's law and therefore unjust and in its adoption the nation scrapped many of its most valuable assets, industries and revenue taxes. As between wine of the Bible and the wine interpretation of the Anti-Saloon League Andriano said he would stand by the Holy Testament. In conclusion he took a parting fling at weak-kneed, pusillanamous congressmen and senators at Washington who obeyed not their conscience or constituents, but were servile to the hired lobbyist, Wayne B. Wheeler and his organization.

Congressman Hill received a big ovation and recited how the fight America made in defense of the cause of democracy became a negation in America when the drys put over prohibition while the boys were overseas. He declared that upon his return from France he determined to run for congress and restore the rights to the people, for prohibition, he said, is alien to the theory of American government. He was elected and discovered that while everyone else had been busy winning the war, the drys had been more intent upon foisting prohibition upon people and had the sixty-seventh congress completely servile to them. The sixty-eighth congress, he declared, broke the strangle grip of dry politicians and not one measure they advocated passed. The next, or seventieth congress, he said, would probably modify the Volstead Act.

The Congressman then declared it was no wonder that the people refused to obey a dishonest law, and he told of his test of the law by making wine and cider, his arrest and exoneration when the courts declared that the Volstead Act plainly had no jurisdiction over home made fermented fruit juice of high alcoholic content, although beer of the same or lower alcoholic content was illegal.

The double standard of wine and beer was of itself a glaring injustice and fallacy. he pointed out. The decision given in Congressman Hill's case, vindicating him, was later upheld in another case by the United States circuit court official. He commented on the recent report of the Federated Council of Churches which was the greatest indictment against prohibition and its effect on the country. He promised to fight bureaucracy at Washington, ask for the return of state rights and predicted that the next congress would act to restore the rights of the people and would knock out the Volstead Act.

The slogan of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, under whose auspices the meeting was held, is "light wines and beer now, no saloons ever."

Who Won the War?

England and France, smoking ready made Cigarettes fought two and a half years and couldn't make the first down on Germany. Germany smoking old tow lines off Ships, Sawdust, Cabbage leaves, Horse Blankets, and second hand Gun Powder couldn't make the grade. But when Americans arrived with no equipment and no training, but plenty "Bull" Durham, and Nerve to burn it with, in Two weeks the French were trading Legion of Honor Medals for a sack of "Bull." One sack was worth two quarts of Iron Crosses. Englishmen have even been known to sacrifice their afternoon tea for a puff of "Bull" Durham. Even after the war an American private, occupying the Ruhr, went into a German Restaurant and asked for a glass of Milk. He couldn't make the Waiter understand so he drew the Picture of a Cow, and a Milk Pail. The Waiter immediately returned with a Bucket of Beer and a Sack of "Bull" Durham Tobacco. The dance tonight (Saturday) given by the Young Ladies' Institute of Sonoma, is the big attraction. Many dance lovers from neighboring cities as well as the youth and beauty of Sonoma Valley will pack the hall. Perkins' Orchestra will play the latest dance music. This is the third annual dance given by the popular young ladies of Sonoma Council, Y. L. I., and they have been working hard to make the affair a success. The hall has been beautifully decorated and all who attend are promised a good time.

Last Friday evening as Dal Emparan was returning from Santa Rosa he noticed a fire starting at the Dan Kennell home at Boyes Springs. Emparan immediately gave the alarm and the Boyes Springs fire department responded and quickly had the flames under control, saving the house. This is the second fire at the Kennell home within a month. Kennell came up from San Francisco Saturday morning to move his household effects to that city and was told of the close escape he had. The loss is estimated at about $60.

The sheriff wore his new diamond studded badge, a gift from his deputies and office force, which was presented to him last Friday evening at his Santa Rosa home. Eight hundred inmates of the Sonoma State Home participated Saturday evening a Hallowe'en costume party, most of the costumes being made by the wearers. Hallowe'en games, dancing, and music furnished by the home orchestra, radio features and other entertainment made up the program and the inmates frolicked until a late hour.

HUSBAND CUT OFF IN WILL WITH $1.00

Abliah Woodworth, brother of the late Sam Woodworth of Sonoma, was cut off in his wife's will with $1.00. She left a $30,000 estate to their sons. A contest looms, with Attorney Cowan representing Woodworth. A dispatch states:

"Indicating the beginning of what is expected to be a bitter contest of the will of the late Abby H. Woodworth who left a $36,000 estate to her two sons and cut off her husband with only $1, the petition for the probate of the will of the late Mrs. Wood worth was continued by consent to Friday, November 13th, to allow a contest to be filed.

"Abijah Woodworth, aged husband of deceased, who was left $1 by the terms of his wife's will, plans to contest the will.

"The two sons named in the will are Fred Woodworth, who is said to have been missing for over 15 years, and Ralph Woodworth of Boston, with whom Mrs. Woodworth left her will, dated October 8, 1892. Both are named as equal sharers in the $36,000 estate left by Mrs. Woodworth which includes a 360 acre ranch eight miles southwest of Santa Rosa.

Provision is made in the will that should either brother die his share should go to the living brother. Fred Woodworth dropped from sight several years ago and has not been heard from in years, it is said.

"The will contest, it is understood, will also be made in an effort to secure a share of the estate for Fred Woolworth's children.

TURKEYS STOLEN BUT ARE BROUGHT BACK

Charges of petty larceny pending against J. C. Webber, Bennett Valley rancher as the result of the alleged theft of eight turkeys from the ranch of Rocco Gaspari, a neighbor, were dismissed in the Santa Rosa justice court at the request of the district attorney's office which is said to have effected a settlement of the matter out of court.

Webber had been arrested recently by Sheriff Joe Ryan after Ryan had found traces of turkeys in a San Rafael residence owned by Webber. Following Webber's arrest and release on bond, eight turkeys were returned to Gaspari's orchard, it is said.

Webber is said to have attempted to settle the matter himself by paying Gaspari $200 for all damages incurred, but Gaspari was ordered to return the money to Webber when he sought the advice of Judge Marvin T. Vaughan.

Editor, Index-Tribune.

Madam:

In reference to the article appearing in last week's issue of the Index-Tribune, under the heading "Family Broken Up By Recent Divorce," I have this to say:

Every other criminal either pleads insanity or some one else pleads insanity for him.

Now that a man has left his home and family, was hypnotized by one of the fairer sex, and that the lady left first leads a few to draw conclusions that she has exerted her hypnotic power to quite an extent on the poor man.

The man in this case was probably more deceitful than the woman. Your article does not mention love notes from the lover to the woman intercepted, which makes him guiltless, I presume. I, for one, advocate giving the man his just share of blame, as well as the woman.

The following poem is very appropriate in this and many other cases, where the terrible woman gets all the blame:

Ever since the time of Adam,
When that duffer won his fame
We've been always knocking women,
For our wrongs she gets the blame.
She's the one that causes trouble,
What a great place this would be,
If this world was for men only
And from women we'd be free.
Every time that men get loaded,
'Twas some women made them so,
With their nagging and their scolding,
On a drunk they made them go.
If we steal, 'twas they that made us
To get clothes for them to wear.
Really, it is something awful,
All the ills men have to bear.
And the preacher in the pulpit,
He must knock the women, too—
How they drink and smoke and gamble,
At their clubs the things they do.
How they neglect their homes and children,
Run about both day and night.
Just see what we poor men suffer,
On my word, it is a fright!
Let me tell you, my dear brother,
Even tho' these things be true,
A woman sure must be a bad one,
If she's not as good as you.
Show me where there is a woman
Who, perchance, has gone astray,
And I'll show you, close behind her,
Some fool man who led the way!
If she smokes, 'twas you who taught her,
If she drinks, you showed her how,
If she is as you have made her
Is it right to knock her now?
God made man and God made woman,
Both upon a different plan.
Yet there ne'er was an erring woman,
That was not made so by man.
